Career Summary

Began working at 16 in a veterinary clinic, absorbing medical knowledge and soft-skills like client interaction in difficult situations. Continued to work at the clinic into college and would spend off time dog-sitting for clients in freelance business. Accepted a sales associate position in Athens in 2015 and promoted to the assistant manager several months later. Began working at a theater as floor staff upon returning to Atlanta. Promoted to Team Lead in 2019 and, shortly before COVID, to Senior Team Lead. Planning to change career paths for several years, began saving for a web development course.

Objective

I chose to spend my time during the lockdown redirecting my career from sales/customer service to technology by expanding my knowledge of application development. To gain the skills necessary to make a career out of my passion, I attended Georgia Tech's full-time, Full Stack Flex Web Development bootcamp in 2020 and graduated with an A. I have developed and deployed many full-stack applications both by myself and with a team and am excited to use my skills in a professional setting.

Technical Skills

- Page Design: HTML5, CSS3, Bootstrap, Foundation
- Primary Language: JavaScript
- Libraries/frameworks: React, Node, Express, jQuery, Handlebars, Axios, and many other Node packages
- Databases: MongoDB, MySQL, Sequelize, NoSQL
- Development Tools: Version control/deployment with GitHub and Heroku, Git, Visual Studio Code, MongoDB Atlas, Robo3T, MySQL Workbench, Postman, Chrome DevTools
